SOME BEAN, EH DEAN? ... Edward Nelson, 17, seated, surrounded by books representing four years of college work, chats with F. Champion, dean of the University of Chicago. Nelson is the envy of every college student who struggles four years to obtain a college sheepskin. In a 30-hour examination, he answered questions equivalent to four years of college, thus excusing him from attending college. The 30-hour examination was the first of its kind in collegiate history. Nelson took the examination to enable himself to enter the graduate school at the university.

Indian Take Jefferson Scalp

The high flying Indians of Cedarville high school rolled to a 57-32 victory over the Tigers of Jefferson to make their Greene county league record 4-0 and stay in first place tie with Beaver.

In the game Friday night on Jefferson's big, new, floor, the Indians were out in front at the end of the first quarter 12-2 and took the first half handily 24-10.

In the third period the Indians really poured it on as they hit the nets for 18 points in the 8 minute stretch. At the end of the third period, the locals were on the long end of the 42-18 count.

Mel Tackett paced the Indians with 19 points while playing just slightly over three quarters as he was consistently on the loose while the Tigers concentrated on stopping the Indians' top point getter, Paul Vest. However, Vest dumped in 16 markers and missed several foul shots where he usually rolls them in regularly.

In other league games Friday night, Beaver kept pace with the Indians by winning at Spring Valley, Silvercreek surprised Bellbrook with a 43-20 lacing and Ross finally won by beating Bryan 40-24.

Former Resident Dies in the West

Word was received of the death of Roy Charters Bromagem, of Sacramento, Calif., who passed away Jan. 21, after a two weeks illness. Mr. Bromagem was born in Xenia July 15, 1873, being the eldest son of John M. and Georgianna Charters Bromagem. He was educated in the Xenia public school, later moving to Cedarville, where he worked for the Hagar paper company. In 1902 he went west, and lived in Tacoma, Washington for a time, but passed the greater part of his life in Sacramento.

His wife formerly Miss Jennie Shields of Dayton, survives him with three children, John, Morton and Mrs. Margaret La Clair, and four grandchildren all of Sacramento.

He also leaves a sister, Mrs. F. A. Jurkat of Cedarville. Burial was made in East Lawn cemetery in Sacramento.

Loan Company Reorganizes

The organization meeting of the Cedarville Federal Savings and Loan Company was held Monday evening, January 23.

Officers elected were: C. W. Steele, president; I. C. Davis, vice president; P. J. McCorkell, secretary-treasurer.

Directors are: C. W. Steele, I. C. Davis, W. A. Spencer, H. H. Brown, J. A. Davis, C. E. Masters, M. C. Nagley of Cedarville and E. B. Higham and L. A. Rogers of Jamestown.

The law firm of Smith McCallister & Gibney was reappointed as attorney of the association.

Former Resident Builder of Year

Stanley Swango Jr., Dayton, formerly of Cedarville, was honored this week by the Montgomery County Builders association when he was named "Builder of the year."

"The award is given annually by the association to a builder for his contribution to the welfare of the association and the building industry. Mr. Swango served as president of the group in 1940.

Mr. Swango and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Swango, Sr., resided in Cedarville four years, moving there from Dayton to which city they returned. He is a graduate of Cedarville High School and attended Cedarville College.

On the School Scene

YOU AND I

Those qualities with which we're best!

For some are good and some are bad,

While some are but a down-right pest.

Let's take that one of "hasty speech";

Now it's a very deadly foe;

For when one's temper starts to boil,

It's best to go a wee bit slow.

Those traits of love and loyalty

Are good and pleasant to behold;

They can't be mcm'ized from the pages,

Nor graded, given, bought, or sold.

A little "this," a little "that";

Make you and me just what we are;

And though we falter 'long the way,

We "hitch our wagons to a star."

(The above poem was written by

Glenn Nance, and represents her contribution to the semester examination in Journalism.)

Sophomore Class Conducts Chapel

An interesting chapel program was presented by the sophomore class Monday, in which the theme

"Patriotism" was carried out.

Stanley Abels, president of the class, led the devotional service.

A special musical number was a piano duet by Joan Hammon and Jane Avis. The history of the flag was given by Sammy Le-master, who also led the student body in the pledge to the flag.

The poem, "Your Flag and My

Flag," written by Wilber D. Nesbit, a former Cedarville man, was read by Joyce Woods. The assembled then sang our National Anthem.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Professor C. W. Steele,

who was introduced by Walker

Williamson. He spoke on the text

"What have they seen in thine house?" and he gave it twenty-first century application: "What will you build in your house?"

In developing his talk, Mr.

Steele stressed the point that race and environment need not be a handicap to individual success. He used several concrete illustrations, naming several great leaders who have become famous in their fields in spite of adverse circumstances in early life: George Washington Carver,

the great negro scientist, made many contributions to the future.

Among other things, he discovered

how to get 300 useful products from peanuts, and 100 products from sweet potatoes.

Other examples of great leaders given were those of Dorothea

Dix, outstanding worker in the social field, and Richard Wright, famous Negro writer.

In conclusion, the speaker quoted

these words from George Washington: "Labor to keep live in your breast that little spark of celestial fire called conscience."

Professor Steele, who is a retired teacher, devoted sixty-four years to teaching in Cedarville

College.

At Cedarville College

Dr. E. Stanley Jones, noted speaker, writer and Christian missionary, will speak at the Cedarville College Convocation Wednesday, February 1 at 8:20 A. M.

To secure Dr. Jones as speaker for the first convocation of the second semester Dr. Ira D. Vayhinger, president of the college announced convocation for the 8:20 hour. Regular, 8:20 classes will be held during the regular convocation hour at 10:10.

Laymen's Group Had Meeting

The Christian Laymen's group met in prayer and discussion at the regular weekly Thursday night prayer service, January 19 at the home of Frank Creswell. Discussion followed prayer and the following committee chairmen were appointed:

Prayer organization chairman, Paul Ramsey; prayer group information and coordinator, Miss Lulu Henderson, schools chairman, Mrs. Frank Creswell, mailing chairman, Mr. Stevenson.

Following informal discussion by the group, the singing of popular hymns was conducted by Rev. C. Scott of the Methodist Church of Enon. The meeting was conducted with so much enthusiasm and spirit that some of the members were reluctant to be dismissed after several hours.

The prayer groups coordinator and chairman at formal meeting on Friday night, January 20, announced the following meetings for Thursday evening, January 20: Prayer groups meeting in the homes of Lee Lynch, Xenia Ave., at 7:30 P. M., and Professor G. W. Steele, Maple St., at 7:30 P. M.

These meetings will each last about an hour.

You are invited to attend the meeting closest you. No one is ever a stranger to these groups; prayer is the common denominator; by your presence you participate.

Following is a list of those present at the Thursday night, Jan. 19 meeting: Mrs. Cotton, Mrs. Stanforth, Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson, Mrs. Strobridge, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ramsey, Roy and Lulu Henderson, Mrs. Arthur Hanna, Miss Lee Lynch, Collier, Rev. Paul Blinn, Miss Alta Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Creswell, and Lee Lynch.

Everyone is invited to these meetings; particularly are suggestions solicited. If you desire further information, phone anyone of those people listed above.

The city wide revival comes to Cedarville March 6-12 at the opera house. H. Max Good, speaker. Mr. Ramsey has tentative plans for four prayer groups to meet Thursday evening, February 22. There will be announced from the pulpits of Cedarville churches.

Jackets to Face Morehead Monday

The Cedarville college Yellow Jackets will face Morehead State Teachers college at Alford Memorial gym on Monday night. In the second game of the season, the Jackets lost to Morehead on the Morehead floor by a score of 61-52.

Prior to meeting Morehead, the Jackets will travel to Huntington on Saturday night and then will face Findlay in a Mid-Ohio league contest at Findlay on Tuesday. On Thursday they will meet Wilberforce State here.

Clarence M. Chapman Dies On Tuesday

Clarence M. Chapman, age 89, died Tuesday at 7 A. M. at his home on Route 25. His entire life home, one mile north of Millersburg, was spent in farming in Greene county, until his retirement to his home 17 years ago. His illness has extended over a period of time.

He is survived by one son, Arthur of Xenia, four daughters, Mrs. Jesse Taylor of near Jamestown, Mrs. Willis Fent at home, Mrs. Ray Edmiston of South Charleston and Mrs. Branson Parks, of Selma, one brother, Samuel of Cleveland, seven grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

The funeral will be held at Alvin G. Little funeral home, Jeffersonville with burial in the Friends church cemetery at Selma. Friends may call at the funeral home at anytime.

Junior Class Announces
Results of Paper Drive

The paper drive held by the Juniors Tuesday and Wednesday, January 18 and 19, netted an income of $76.76, which will be added to the class treasury and used for May activities.

In connection with the paper drive, a committee of class members were assigned to prepare sales tax stamps for disposal.

WANTS BIGGER GROUNDS

Former Governor Myers Y. Cooper, chairman of the committee named a year ago to relocate the state fairgrounds, favors an area four times as large as the present site. He calls the state fair the "Show Window" of the state.

March of Dimes Interest Lags

Friends, you are falling down on your giving to the March of Dimes. One more week to go and the bottoms of most of these containers are not covered. We all agree this is a very worthy cause. While we had only one case these little crippled children, just as you would want help, should your child be stricken.

Fill these containers, so we can depend on help from Greene County. Cash contributions are greatly appreciated. Make your checks payable to "March of Dimes" and give to Wilbur Wiscup or P. J. McCorkell.

Jackets Smear Chase 104-45, Drop to Bliss

The Cedarville college Yellow Jackets, after winning four in a row, got dumped at Bliss Thursday night by a 74-65 count, but bounced back Saturday night to run up a 104-45 win over Simon P. Chase of Cincinnati at Walnut Hills.

Against Bliss' the Jackets trailed most of the way. Walt Blatner paced the attack for the locals with 24.

At Cincinnati Saturday night, Coach Mendell E. Beattie tried to open the gates of mercy with the starting five seeing only a few minutes of action, but the subs kept rolling in the points.

Ed Brill was high with 16 and John Townsend followed with 15. In all 12 jackets broke into the scoring column, as the bench was cleaned. The Jackets held a 59-10 lead at the half.

The win placed the Jackets with a season record of 8-9. The 104 points rolled up by the Jackets set a new Cedarville college scoring record.

Along the Greene
County Farm Front

By E. A. DRAKE

Farm Machinery Clinic Feb. 3

The selection, adjustment and efficient use of farm machinery will be discussed by S. G. Huber, extension agricultural engineer at the Court House Assembly Room Friday Feb. 3, from 10:00 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

Mr. Huber will discuss the kinds and how much machinery there should be on farms of different size and types. Proper tractor maintenance will receive major consideration since surveys have shown that improper carburetor adjustment can cost the farmer $60 a year. All farmers are invited to attend the meeting.

Stockmen's Banquet Feb. 6 Robert E. Humphreys who will present the General Electric Company's "House of Magic" at the Greene County Stockmen's

Banquet at the Xenia Field House February 6 at 7:00 p. m. is a young engineer well qualified to demonstrate the marvels of modern science.

The "House of Magic" is a science show of mystifying demonstrations—actually not magic at all, but proof that scientific fact can be stranger than fiction.

Research in science has uncovered many things many marvelous things about electricity. The "House of Magic" shows some of these things and how they are being used. Actually, the presentation is a pleasant combination of entertainment and information.

Tickets are now on sale and must be secured from township committees or at the county agent's office before February 3. Chairmen of township ticket committees are: Ross, Earl Rittner; Cedarville, Harold Doherty; Miami, Raymond Spracklin; Bath, Harry Trolinger; Leavercreek, Ed Haines; Sugar Creek, Everett Gregg; Spring Valley, Ernest Beam; Caesar Creek, Wilfred McDonald; Jefferson, Wilbur Beard; New Jasper, Russell Fudge; and Xenia, J. B. Lane. Robert L. Thomas is chairman of the county ticket committee.

Machinery Can Reduce Costs There is around $8500.00 invested in farm machinery on the average commercial family farm in Greene County and the annual cost of operating this machinery is approximately $1500. The operating costs include depreciation, repairs, taxes, insurance, fuel and oil. Fuel and oil account for more than one-third of the total operating cost.

There is still need for widespread use of farm machinery and equipment to cut production costs. Machinery is still relatively cheaper than farm labor. However, with the prices of farm products declining farm economists are urging farmers to avoid both under and over investment in machinery and to operate all machines efficiently.

Ohio's Balance

According to Finance Director H. D. Defenbacher Ohio's balance is $2,240,000, which is in excess of the expenditures authorized by the legislature and well within the budget set for the year 1950.

CLEAN BEFORE YOU STORE

Will your "winter things" be moth bait this summer? Not if you send them to New Cedarville Cleaners for expert dry cleaning. Dirt and grime work into fabric — often invisibly — then moth worms have a feast. Before you store, let New Cedarville Cleaners "proof" your clothes against the menace of moths and silver fish.

To the people of Cedarville Community.

As most of you know by this time I am leaving the Drug business in Cedarville, where it has been a pleasure to serve you for the past twenty-four years.

Your health needs, your wants and desires necessitated long store hours; but we were happy to be able to meet these demands. Without your patronage and friendship our stay here could not have been either so long or so pleasant, and we are very grateful.

With your help and loyal support we were able to live here, rear and educate the children and enjoy the many blessings which Cedarville has to offer.

And to the clerks each one giving their time and strength, always with the thought, to serve efficiently.

We do not hesitate to recommend our successors Dr. and Mrs. D. Ralph James who come to Cedarville in a spirit of friendship. They are anxious to meet you, to serve you and make new friends.

My father-in-law, Mr. N. W. Prowant will be retained as Registered Pharmacist, his experience from years of professional service will be at your disposal.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. James Steele and family and Mr. and Mrs. James Ramsey and son were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Ramsey.

Miss Mary Beverly of Bellefontaine was a weekend guest of Miss Mildred Williamson.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harner and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mullens and son in Reardon.

The Young people will have charge of the services at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

Prof. and Mrs. James Ramsey had as Sunday guests Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hoffman of Dayton and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Ramsey of Loveland.

Dr. Paul Elliott attended a Presbyterian meeting in Hamilton all day Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Connor and sons spent Sunday in Columbus with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fox and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bennett.

Miss Barbara Koppe who is in nurses training at Bethesda hospital in Cincinnati spent the week end with her parents Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Koppe. Sunday guests at the Koppe home were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Frank and son of Dayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Townsley spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. John Sanders of Sandusky.

Mr. and Mrs. David Reynolds and daughter spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis in Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clemans spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Helfner and family in Ada.

Dr. Ralph A. Jamieson visited his daughter, Mrs. A. F. Huish and family in Rushville, Indiana, also a brother, Dr. S. R. Jamieson and his wife in Oxford.

Editorial

HISS SIGNIFICANCE

It's had enough anytime and under any circumstance for a person to tell a lie. To lie under oath is an offense. It is called perjury. It is hard to understand how a person would or could do that. After a painstaking, exhaustive and fact-finding trial Alger Hiss, one-time top-drawer adviser in the state department, and right-hand-man to the commander-in-chief at Yalta and in other conferences, directing U. S. foreign policy by admission of all who know him—Alger Hiss has been found guilty of lying under oath. The significance of the whole affair is far from being negligible. It lays bare some important facts, chief of which are that Russia was the darling of our star-spangled heart, and whatever Russia wanted she got, usually by paying for it. The revelations of the Hiss trial are a disgrace proving that the epoch in which he swayed policies can not be considered lily-white. More fuel is now added to the flame of wrath about American disloyalty and dishonor in that period, and we predict there will be many more acts of duplicity uncovered.

DON'T LAUGH AT CLEO

Front pages the country over have told a startled world of the hardware diet Cleopatra, the Nile valley crocodile of the Cincinnati Zoo, had followed with Hollywood strictness. Surgeons scissored into Cleo's innards and retrieved six pop bottles, 38 rocks and some marbles.

Since the beginning of time strange things have happened along this Nile, not all of which do to print.

The interesting thing about Cleo's operation is that President Truman didn't list it among the 20-odd (some of them very odd) "responsibilities" America owes—as if we didn't owe enough without tacking on "responsibilities."

LET THIS BE A LESSON!

Swiss professor David at Marquette College has a billy goat who is his own grandfather. The full lineage is revealed without the omission of a single sniff, and everybody's goat is got. Kids, Nannies, Billies, how many were going to St. Ives? The reason grandpa is not going to be crowned king of the goat-ees is that while somebody wasn't looking the old rascal would haul off and eat the crown!

ONE DIRECTION

An old horseman, explaining to an inquiring lady visitor at his stable why the tail of the "docked" horse took the position it did, said, "Lady, when a horse's tail is cut, there's only one direction for it to go—up!" That's the way with prices right now. There seems to be but one direction for them to go—up! Steel prices higher, coal, what there is of it, sky high and going higher; coffee about a dime a cup and railroad fares for hunk folk would walk if shoes didn't cost so everlasting much, . . . up, up, up, up—that's the direction.

THE EYES HAVE IT

Often older folk, clinging to memories of one-room-school education, criticize modern methods used by schools. You hear them say that there is too much folderol and too many frills in the present system. But one thing is highly approved by everybody who knows about it—visual education. They state lessons more forcefully than they could be taught in any other way. We saw a list of titles of such films which included "The Story of Our Flag," "The Library of Congress," "Elephants," "Finland," and a half dozen others. It's safe to say we older folk would learn a great deal from these pictures.

REMEMBER HIM?

Time was when the name David Warfield brought a thrill to theater goers who considered him, as the world did, the greatest of the great in "The Music Master." Forgotten by the multitudes who jam-packed movie palaces today, he was 83 years old the other day. As a boy he peddled theater programs.

TURNING STONES

Senator Taft has said he thinks he can win re-election "if I leave no stone unturned." He's been going around Ohio turning stones, and explaining that the issue is whether "a free people want to run their own government or a dictatorial government which runs the people." That makes good listening. And we're listening, Senator.

You can be sure of one thing, that whatever goes on in WDC there is politics back of it.

An archduke and a princess were married the other day but they are coming to USA to live. DUKING is better over here.

If the coal shortage comes to the worst, of course we can all go back to using steam heat again.

SCRIPTURE: Acts 3:4-11:18
DEVOTION: Reading: Romans 3:21-30.

Unto All Men

Lesson for January 29, 1950

"MARK TIME, Christian Soldiers!" is not a Christian hymn. The word is "Onward, Christian Soldiers!" The command was given by no less a person than Jesus himself: "Go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them . . . teaching them . . ." (Matt. 28:19, 20) Do you know some one in the church who says he doesn't believe in missions? Such a man does not take Christ seriously. If you do believe in Christ then his commands are for you to obey, not to ignore.

Dr. Foreman

When Men Delay

UP TO NOW, the church has been playing around with Jesus' command. Very few denominations are actually putting any large amount of money or manpower into obeying Christ's command to go into all the world.

One fairly typical American denomination contributed last year to all benevolences, that is to all causes not in their own local congregations, the sum of $9,137,065. That sounds like a lot; but divided by the total number of members it boils down to $14.03 per member for the year, or less than five cents a day.

And of course not all that big sum of five cents went to missions of any sort. Yet that denomination gives more per capita to missions than most others do. When a man who gives less than five cents a day to carry the good news of Christ into the wide world sings "Onward, Christian Soldiers!" or prays "Thy Kingdom come!" how much does he mean it? Not a nickel's worth!

Or take the question of manpower. This same denomination sends out as missionaries, every year, as many men and women as are sent by some denominations three times its size. And yet, even so, the total number of ordained ministers in that denomination who are foreign missionaries is only 4 per cent of their total number of ministers.

"Go into all the world," said the Master. "Four per cent of us will," we reply, "the rest of us will stay at home."

When Men Obey

AS A MATTER OF FACT, even the earliest church was slow to pay real attention to Christ's command. Forward! Men are strange creatures. And one of the strange things about us is that we often have to be scared into doing our duty.

It took the persecution set off by the death of Stephen to move the Christians in Jerusalem out along the roads south, north, east, anywhere to get away from the city of death. Everywhere they went, they told the story of Jesus.

But at first it was all rather breathless and informal. "Why are you here?" one of these DP's would be asked, as he was passing through Samaria or Antioch or Alexandria, perhaps in the bread-line, perhaps looking for a place to work and settle down. "I'm a refugee from Jerusalem," he would say. "But why?" "Well, I'm a Christian." "What's that?"

So the story would be told all over again, the good news about God's grace in Christ. So the church spread. Today, though an enormous part of the world's population is still unwon, there are Christians in so many lands that the Bible—all or parts of it—has had to be translated into more than one thousand different languages and dialects.

Unto All Men

ONE OF THE MOST interesting and surprising little books of recent years is called "They Found the Church There," by H. P. Van Dusen. It is the dramatic story of how the American GI, to his great astonishment, found Christians in the most unexpected places. It is a tremendous mistake to think that the Christian religion is only for English-speaking peoples, or for Europeans, or for white people. It began among people whom most readers of this column would set down as "foreigners."

Christ can be as much at home in an igloo or a wigwam as he is in an American farmhouse or in an efficiency apartment on the city boulevard. He comes to all men, and as Peter found out, the Lord is no respecter of persons.

CLARENCE J. BROWN Writes With a Buckeye In Congress

After two weeks of "on and off" debate, the Senate last week voted 56 to 16 to repeal all taxes on oleomargarine. The bill had previously been approved by the House last year. An attempt to tack a rider on amendment on the measure to repeal wartime excise taxes as well as the tax on oleo was defeated 43 to 32. The measure now goes to the White House, where the president is expected to sign it, bringing an end to the legislative war which has raged between the dairy farmers of the north and the cottonseed oil producers of the south for so many years.

The Airphibian

Washington motorists shied away in surprise from a new type vehicle which showed up on the capital city's streets last week. It was an "airphibian," a combination airplane and automobile, the invention of Robert Fulton Newton, Conn., descendant of the Robert Fulton who invented the steamboat. It makes 110 miles per hour in the air and 46 miles per hour on the ground and carries two passengers. Fulton flew to Washington to demonstrate his invention to officials of the department of commerce and civil aeronautics authority.

To Give Away Food

Federal authorities have announced that Government-owned surplus potatoes will soon be given away free. Plans are understood to be underway for the free distribution of dried eggs, powdered milk, some meats, and other surplus foods now a part of the three and one-half billion dollars worth of food products purchased and owned by the federal government. Southern legislators are demanding the enactment of a bill for the benefit of cotton producers at an estimated cost of from $1.5 billion to $2.5 billion. In the meantime farm prices continue their downward trend while farm commodity surpluses grow.

The Denfeld Affair

When Admiral Louis Denfeld was suddenly discharged as chief of naval operations, following his criticism of Truman Administration's defense policies before the house because of his testimony, but only for incompetence and because his term of office had expired. In the senate last week photostatic evidence was submitted showing Admiral Denfeld had been reappointed and re-commissioned as chief of naval operations on Sept. 14, 1949, with the Commission signed by both Secretary of the Navy Matthews and President Truman, for a period of two years from that date. The secretary of the navy had previously testified Denfeld had not been re-commissioned. The senate was shocked by the revelation and has held up confirmation of the new chief of naval operations, Admiral Forrest Sherman, until investigation can be made. The next day Admiral Denfeld requested retirement from the Navy March 1, after stating he had been reappointed and commissioned by the navy secretary and the president last September.

Oleo Tax Taken Off

By a two-vote margin—193 to 191—the House last Thursday turned down the Korean aid bill—the first administration foreign aid measure to be rejected since 1939. The bill authorized the immediate spending of $120 million, and the ultimate spending of $385 million, as economic aid to southern Korea. The bill would have legalized a $60 million expenditure made by the Truman administration last year without authorization by congress. Northern Korea was occupied by Russia following the Yalta agreement and the end of World War II. State department officials testified no commitment or promise of any kind had been made to southern Korea that such aid would be given. Military officials insist southern Korea cannot be defended in case of war, while Secretary of State Acheson stated Korea, along with Formosa, could and would not be defended against aggression.

May Recognize Spain

Look for the Truman administration and the state department to recognize Franco Spain within the very near future. According to rumor Spanish recognition will be granted to offset criticism of the Administration's early recognition of communist China, now said to be in the making. Such is far different from Wilson's diplomatic policy of "Open covenants, openly arrived at."

To Double Insurance

There is a move on foot in administration circles and on Capitol Hill to increase Federal insurance on bank deposits from the present $5,000 limit to $10,000. Building and loan deposits guarantees are expected to remain at the $5,000 figure, however.

Excise Tax Lays

The Truman administration does not seem to be in any great hurry to either repeal or reduce wartime excise taxes. Late last week a Republican move to bring the issue to an early vote in the senate was opposed by Democratic Leader Lucas, and was rejected by the votes of Democratic senators. As a result hopes for excise tax relief from this congress have been greatly dampened.

COACH QUITS IN HUFF

Informed that his contract would not be renewed, Coach Edgington of Chillicothe high school promptly resigned, though his contract does not expire until the end of the school year. He was at one time assistant coach at OSU.

Easily Built Trough Will Aid Sheepmen

Designed to Cut Labor, Lumber, Space and Feed

An easily built grain or hay trough has proved to be a problem for many sheep growers, but this trough designed by H. M. Briggs, department of animal husbandry,

This trough will save lumber, space and feed for the sheep grower.

Oklahoma agricultural experiment station, will provide the answer to that problem in many cases. The trough shown in these drawings is intended for mature sheep and will save labor, lumber, space and feed.

As the drawings show, the trough can be built easily by any farm handy-man, if the plan is followed strictly. It should be noted that the trough has its own floor. If yearling rams are to be fed, the material should be slightly heavier than is shown in the plan. The center of the pen, according to Briggs, is the most desirable location for this trough. Or several can be placed in a lot or pen. If the trough is placed on a dirt floor or lot, dig a shallow hole under each leg so the trough cannot be pushed about. In a bedded pen, the legs will anchor in the bedding. The trough can be cleaned easily by tipping it up.

Wings for 'Wingless'

Wings for a wingless chicken are provided here by airline stewardess Marilyn Crawford. She is shown holding her very own "wings" to one of Peter Bauman's famed "wingless" chickens, which Bauman is holding in the photo. Four of the chickens were shipped by air to Olean, N.Y., for breeding purposes.

Caution Urged In Use Of Chemicals, Sprays

Dust sprays, gasses and other insecticides will do much to promote the healthy growth of fruits and vegetables is the gist of instruction being passed out now by county agents over the nation.

However, these can often have just the opposite effect on people. Even though the container may not bear the skull and crossbones label, caution is necessary since many substances are harmful in some ways to man, despite the fact that they may not be definitely poisonous.

The whole story of safety in use of insecticides, it was pointed out, is simply precaution.

Technique Is Outlined For Reclaiming Leather

One way to bring mildewed leather back into service in short order, say home management specialists, is to wipe it with a cloth wrung out in diluted alcohol. Use one cup of denatured alcohol to one cup of water. Then, if necessary, wash with thick suds of mild, neutral soap, or saddle soap, with a damp cloth and dry in an airy place. When dry polish with good wax dressing.

SQUABBLE IN THE PACHYDERM TENT

WASHINGTON REPORT

BY SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

DURING the month of January, the Senate will consider the bill to establish a Fair Employment Practices Commission and possibly also the Federal anti-lynching bill. These bills are part of the so-called civil rights program which has become a slogan without any clear idea of exactly what it covers. As I see it, it is intended to enable men to enforce more effectively their constitutional rights and to reduce discrimination. Undoubtedly, there is such discrimination against Negroes in many parts of the United States.

The most serious discrimination, I think, is in employment, and rather more in the North than in the South—that is to say, the jobs open to Negroes are limited in number and character. They are more likely to be laid off first when a depression occurs, and they are the last to be put back to work. Also, there are parts of the country where they are not permitted to vote and where any effort to insist on certain constitutional rights brings a threat of violence.

I feel that the poll tax is used to prevent the Negroes voting in the six states where it remains, and I have always supported a bill to abolish the poll tax as a condition of voting in national elections. I have also supported a Federal anti-lynching bill such as that now on our Senate calendar.

TO DEAL with the problem of discrimination in employment, I have advocated the setting up of a Fair Employment Practices Commission to begin with a study of the whole problem. I believe that the condition can be greatly improved on a study and co-operative basis.

The FEPC existing during the war was able to improve greatly the industrial condition of the colored people, though it had no enforcement powers. Such a Commission, after studying an industrial city and determining what the situation is, could call all the employers together and lay out a definite plan for increasing the number of jobs open to Negroes and also for improving the grade of such jobs. I believe all the larger employers, with the backing of the President, would go

I have been opposed to setting up a great Federal organization to pass on the possible prejudices involved in any one of the 60 million employment relationships in the United States. It would subject millions of employers to arbitrary action by some Federal board. That board would have to determine in each case the motive of an employer in turning down an applicant for work; and, because motive is a question of fact, there would practically be no appeal to the courts. In my opinion, the Federal government is no proper agency to deal directly with 140 million individuals in this country, or to try to offer a legal enforcement remedy for all their problems.

IN considering the rights of the minorities, we must also consider the rights of the several million employers who are responsible for constantly increasing our production and standard of living. It certainly is a serious deprivation of liberty to say to a man that the must employ someone who he may consider to be unfitted or perhaps entirely incompetent for the particular job, or prove the validity of his opinion in court.

Furthermore, the effort of the Federal government to deal with all these millions of cases is bound to create bitter feeling and, in my opinion, increase race feeling and prejudice rather than to remove it. Whatever civil rights bills are proposed, I believe very strongly that the proponents have a right to have the bills voted on in the Senate. I have supported cloture, or limitation of debate, therefore, on all these measures, after a reasonable time is given for debate. The Republicans last year succeeded in securing an amendment to the cloture rule, which now makes cloture possible, as it has not been during the past 12 years that I have been in the Senate. I think we shall see a definite vote on one or more of the civil rights measures which I have discussed.
